

Roudebush Woods Website

roudebushwoods.org

Our website is now the primary means of communication with the residents of Roudebush Woods. We no longer publish a quarterly newsletter because of the cost and the effort it takes to publish and distribute a paper newsletter. Visit the website regularly to keep up with happenings in Roudebush Woods. Some of the features of the website include:

- Contact information for the board members
- An extensive list of community resources available to the residents
- Full reporting of the minutes of each board meeting
- Recent issues and communications posted on the home page
- Free online listings for homeowners who have businesses
- Online documents (Covenants, architectural submission forms, lot map, etc.)
- Weather conditions, updated hourly
- Helpful hints for maintaining your property
